FORBIDS EMPLOYMENT OF WOMEN IN THE CANTEENS

Regiment Colored Troops
To Be Organized at Once

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., June 10.—Major General Harry C. Hale, commander of the Eighty-Fourth Division, formerly of Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., took command of Camp Sherman this morning. New orders at once were issued covering the visiting periods of civilians, the employment of women in the camp canteens and the regulation of company barracks.

A new regiment of colored troops is to be organized to be commanded by officers of the Eighty-Fourth Division. Men will be selected from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio, it is said. Five hundred men are expected from Pennsylvania and at least 1,500 from West Virginia. The officers from second lieutenants up, will be appointed from Washington, probably upon the recommendation of commanding officers in the Eighty-Fourth. It is believed that the officers will be selected from the depot brigade, formerly of the Eighty-Third Division, which was left behind when that division left camp. Many of the officers are anxious to get into active service overseas. The regiment will include 3,699 men and 106 officers.

Federal Judge John Sater, of Columbus and Naturalization Examiner W. T. Schoedler, of Cleveland, naturalized 256 aliens in the "Y" hut No. 76 Saturday night. The group was the largest sworn-in at once time since the work began by Major E. K. Campbell a week ago.

Among those naturalized was Max Wieder, a former soldier in the German army. Wieder was not only anxious to become an American citizen but immediately upon becoming an American citizen petitioned to have his name changed to a Yankee one. Wieder said he was willing to fight against relatives in the German army.

Two former soldiers who had taken out their second papers and were preparing to make their final accommodations were turned back to take the longer route to American citizenship through civilian life. They were honorably discharged owing to physical defects.

SURVEY OF THE ATLANTIC COAST IS BEING MADE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 10.—A methodical survey of the entire Atlantic coast from the Mexican line to Halifax has failed to bring to light any evidence that German submarines have employed a shore base or have had touch with the shores at any point, Secretary Daniels said today. This was taken as an official denial of reports that strange signals had been seen at night from remote sections of the coast.

Heavy Guns and Ammunition Being Moved by Austrians to Front

MEN BEING GIVEN SPECIAL SYSTEM PHYSICAL TRAINING

Every Movement of Enemy
Is Being Watched by Italians

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Italian Army Headquarters, Sunday, June 9.—Railroads behind the Austrian lines in northern Italy are being used to their capacity night and day in bringing troops to the front, distributing them to different sectors and moving heavy guns and large quantities of munitions to positions near the battle line. A special system of drills to improve the physical condition of the Austrian soldiers and give them training for assaulting positions has also been put into effect.

The Austrians in the mountain districts are under the direct command of Field Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf. Field Marshal Borevic, commander in chief of the Austrian forces on the Italian front, is located in the Piave river district. It was he who last year promised to deliver Venice to his emperor and initiated air raids upon churches and monuments in that city until the Italian air pilots destroyed the effectiveness of the Austrian raiders.

It is known that the enemy is making strenuous efforts to prevent deserters from reaching the Italian lines, carrying information of troop dispositions. Heavy rewards have been offered for the shooting of deserters. The enemy, however, is being watched carefully by the Italians who seek to checkmate a threatened offensive, whether it be on a large scale, or intended merely to bluff the Italians from sending troops to France or to satisfy German demands for an offensive.

Behind the Italian lines the aspect of the country is peaceful. Children are seen fishing in the canals and streams or playing upon the great highways leading up to the front.

THE END OF GERMANY'S TANKS IN PRESENT DRIVE; CAMOUFLAGE FAILS TO SAVE THIS GERMAN MACHINE

German tank captured during drive.

Reports from the front have told repeatedly of the superiority of the tanks of the allies over those of the Germans. The Hun tanks have proved almost complete failures. This picture would indicate that. The tank was overturned and put out of commission in big time. The picture shows it lying on its side, captured by British troops. The iron cross and German lettering can be seen on it. The branches shown on the top, back of the soldier, were used in a vain attempt to camouflage the car.

LANDS CREW OF STEAMER SUNK BY SUBMARINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 10.—News of the sinking of the American steamer Mauban off the coast of Italy late in May was brought here today by 26 members of her crew who arrived on a freight steamer ship.

The Mauban, 1,253 tons gross register, was built in 1900 and prior to the war was engaged in Philippine trade. She was last reported leaving Manila for European waters. The steamer ship that brought the crew of the Mauban had on board also 12 members of the crew of the auxiliary schooner City of Pensacola, sunk by a submarine in May near Genoa, and 30 members of the crew of the steamer ship City of Wilmington, which was destroyed by fire at sea after leaving an American port with a cargo of cotton.

FRENCH LEADER CLAIMS ENEMY SUFFERS CHECK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, June 10.—"It was a perfectly satisfactory day," said Premier Clemenceau last night. In these words the French leader accurately summed up the prevailing impression.

Latest advices from the battle-front show that on the whole the enemy clearly suffered a check on the day's operations. The enemy gained a slight advantage in the center on a front of three and a quarter miles about a fourth on the entire line of attack.

On the wings he was stopped with such losses that five divisions have been put out of commission, or about one-third of the divisions identified up to the present as having taken part in the attack. This was done without the French reserves being called on.

The Germans had to bring up their troops at the last moment in order to avoid giving the alarm to the allies. As the columns arrived they were compelled to deploy from the column of march into the line of attack. This operation, which takes some hours exposed the men to an unpleasant artillery fire unless the element of surprise is preserved.

The German attacking troops coming out to envelope the heights of Boacaze and Riquebourg, dominating the Matz valley offered a splendid target to the French gunners. The enemy had to throw in division after division before he was able to drive his way forward to Ressons-Sur-Matz and Mareuil along the Roye road which was swept by French fire.

Ressons-Sur-Matz is a central position from which the enemy can direct attacks southward of Estrees-St. Denis or southeast to Compiègne. He is being strongly counter-attacked however and will only be able to develop his advantage at heavy cost, if at all.

Henry Bidon, military critic says: "Let us be wary at the beginning of an important offensive of forming judgments, but without prejudging the future it is difficult not to be satisfied with the first day."

The feeling which fairly represents the general sentiment is expressed by L'Ouvre in the caption: "This time we have not been 'surprised,' but perhaps the Boches will be."

Summarizing the morning newspaper comment, the Havas Agency notes that the commentators are unanimous in pointing out that the first day of the new year was far from securing for the enemy the gains which he sought.

They emphasize the fact that contrary to what occurred in the two previous German strokes in the south, the enemy this time suffered heavy losses on the first day by which it is shown that the effort to surprise the allies completely failed.

L'Homme Libre says: "We replied to the preparatory fire in such a way that the duel became the greatest artillery battle of the war."

LONG RANGE WORKING.

Paris, June 10.—The long range bombardment of the Paris district continued today.

WALKED AMERICAN PRISONERS BACK TO FRENCH LINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, June 10.—How the captors of three American soldiers on the sector northwest of Chateau-Thierry unwittingly led them back into the allied lines owing to the tangled conditions of the fighting front there is told by the correspondent of The Times with the American army in France, Corporal Sidney W. Rogers and Privates Raymond Howard and Frank P. Ridgway were captured at Hill No. 204. Two Germans started with them to the rear but became confused and walked straight into the French lines and themselves were taken prisoner.

The Americans reported that German officers had questioned them closely as to when and where they landed in Europe, where they were trained and the identity of their units. The Americans refused to answer any of the questions. The Germans served the American prisoners with a nauseating compound of flour and water as food.

FURIOUS HUN ATTACKS BROKEN BY FRENCH TIME AFTER TIME WHILE LATER WITH AMERICAN TROOPS GAINED GROUND ON THE MARNE FRONT

NUMBER OF PRISONERS TAKEN ALL OF WHOM REPORT LOSS TO GERMANS HAS BEEN HEAVY

Our Troops In Conjunction with French Between the Oureq and Marne Rivers Repulse Several Attacks East of Vinly and in Region of Brussaires Took Prisoners and Captured Thirty Machine Guns—Huns Making Attempt to Outflank French Lines in Soissons Sector, While Present Attack is Directed Immediately Against Compiègne as Part of Campaign Against Paris.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, June 10.—The new German attack on the front between Montdidier and Noyon continued last night with undiminished violence, the war office reports. On the French left wing furious German attacks made time after time, were broken by the French fire.

In the center the enemy bringing up reinforcements made further progress reaching the southern part of Cuvilly wood and Ressons-Sur-Matz.

French and American troops continuing their attacks in the region of Brussaires, on the Marne front, gained more ground and took prisoners.

On the French right wing along the front of the new attack bitter fighting continues. The French took more than 500 prisoners in various engagements. Prisoners report unanimously that the loss of the Germans thus far in the battle which began yesterday morning have been extremely heavy.

The statement follows: "The German push was continued yesterday evening and last night with the same ferocity."

"On the French left wing violent attacks were renewed on several occasions but they were broken by the French fire and, by counter-attacks by our troops. The town of Courcelles was captured and recaptured and finally held in our hands."

"On the right the French forces maintained their positions to the southeast of Ville. Here there was bitter fighting. The French took more than 500 prisoners in the course of these various engagements."

"On the center the enemy endeavored by bringing in fresh forces, to continue his progress. He was successful in reaching the southern edge of Cuvilly wood and Ressons-Sur-Matz on the plateau of Billingslie. "Further to the east the fighting was continued in Thies court wood."

"According to the unanimous reports of prisoners the battle up to the present time has cost the enemy enormous losses."

"To the north of Rheims there has been fairly spirited artillery fighting."

French forces completed the operation on which they embarked yesterday to the east of Haute-Braye and took 150 prisoners.

"Between the rivers Oureq and Marne French forces repulsed several German attacks east of Vinly. Continuing their progress in the region of Brussaires French and American troops gained ground, brought up to 250 the number of prisoners taken and captured thirty machine guns."

"In the opinion of some commentators in the morning newspapers the section attacked is a vital one because of the various detached heights which lie across the head of the valley of the Oise and the great railway and road to Paris. Any important gain in this direction, it is remarked, would bring the enemy out into the level country towards Saint Just and Compiègne and enable him to avoid a frontal attack on the forest of Compiègne and Villers-Cotterets which are of great value to the allies for defensive purposes."

Such a gain, it is held, would probably compel a readjustment of the allied front between the Oise and the Marne."

Another object of the new move is assumed to be an attempt to outflank the French line in the Soissons sector."

The French troops appear to be putting up a splendid resistance to the Germans on the Noyon sector, especially on the two flanks of the attacking front where the heaviest fighting continues. The Germans have made some progress in the center where they claim the capture of the heights of Giry, while the French admit the loss of the village of Ressons-Sur-Matz and Mareuil."

It was generally expected that the attack would come between Noyon and Montdidier, thus seemingly resuming the direct thrust for Paris. Simultaneously with the bombardment in the Noyon sector the British front was subjected to a heavy fire (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1.)

HEARINGS ON THE NEW ARMY BILL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 10.—With Secretary Baker as the first witness, the senate military affairs committee today opened hearings on the army appropriation bill carrying $12,000,000,000 and containing a provision inserted by the house to give the president unlimited authority to increase the army. Members of the committee said they expect to report the bill next week and prompt action by the senate is expected.

SENATE PROPOSAL FOR COMPLETE PROHIBITION WAS INTRODUCED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 10.—A proposal for complete prohibition during the war was presented in the senate today by Senator Jones of Washington, as an amendment to the $11,000,000 emergency agricultural appropriation bill. It is designed to meet President Wilson's objections to the Randall amendment, which would prevent use of $5,000,000 of the appropriation unless the president should exercise his authority to prohibit manufacture of beer and wines.

The Jones amendment would prohibit the sale or transportation of distilled spirits during the war; prohibit manufacture of beers and wines 30 days after passage of the bill and in addition would provide that no whiskey held in storage should be withdrawn for beverage purposes.

NEW PASSENGER RATES IN EFFECT ON ALL ROADS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 10.—Travelers upon American railroads today paid increased fares, the new rates of 3 cents a mile, ordered by Director General McAdoo, having become operative last midnight. Tickets purchased at any station in the country today, whether for intra-state or inter-state travel, were at the new 3-cent rate.

Passengers en route to destinations on trips starting before last midnight completed their journeys at the old rate, but with stopover privileges abolished.

In addition to increasing all fares to 3 cents a mile the order, effective today, added one-half cent a mile to the fare for Pullman accommodations. The charge for a berth or chair in Pullman cars will remain the same, at least for the present.

The men have agreed not to enter or make purchases in either of the cities until the mandate of the military authorities is carried out.

STEAMER STUCK IN ICE: ALL ON BOARD ARE SAVED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, June 10.—The first merchant ship to be stuck in the ice in the Behring sea and one steamer, the Tacoma, has been sunk, according to word received today by the department of commerce.

The ice steamer Roosevelt of the bureau of fisheries, has located the crew and passengers of the Tacoma and has gone to their assistance. Four other ships were towed to safety by the Roosevelt.

The following wireless message from the commander of the Roosevelt was received today:

"Brought barkentine Centennial to safety. She had no rudder and stern post was gone. Have located camp of Tacoma survivors. Am going for them now."

The fleet carried several hundred persons, mostly workmen coming to work in the salmon canneries. How many vessels were in the fleet is not known here but as the crews and passengers of five have been taken to safety, it is believed there has been no large loss of life.

GERMANS LAUNCH OFFENSIVE SUNDAY

including gas shells which seemed to herald another attack, according to the latest accounts. No infantry attack has yet developed against the British lines.

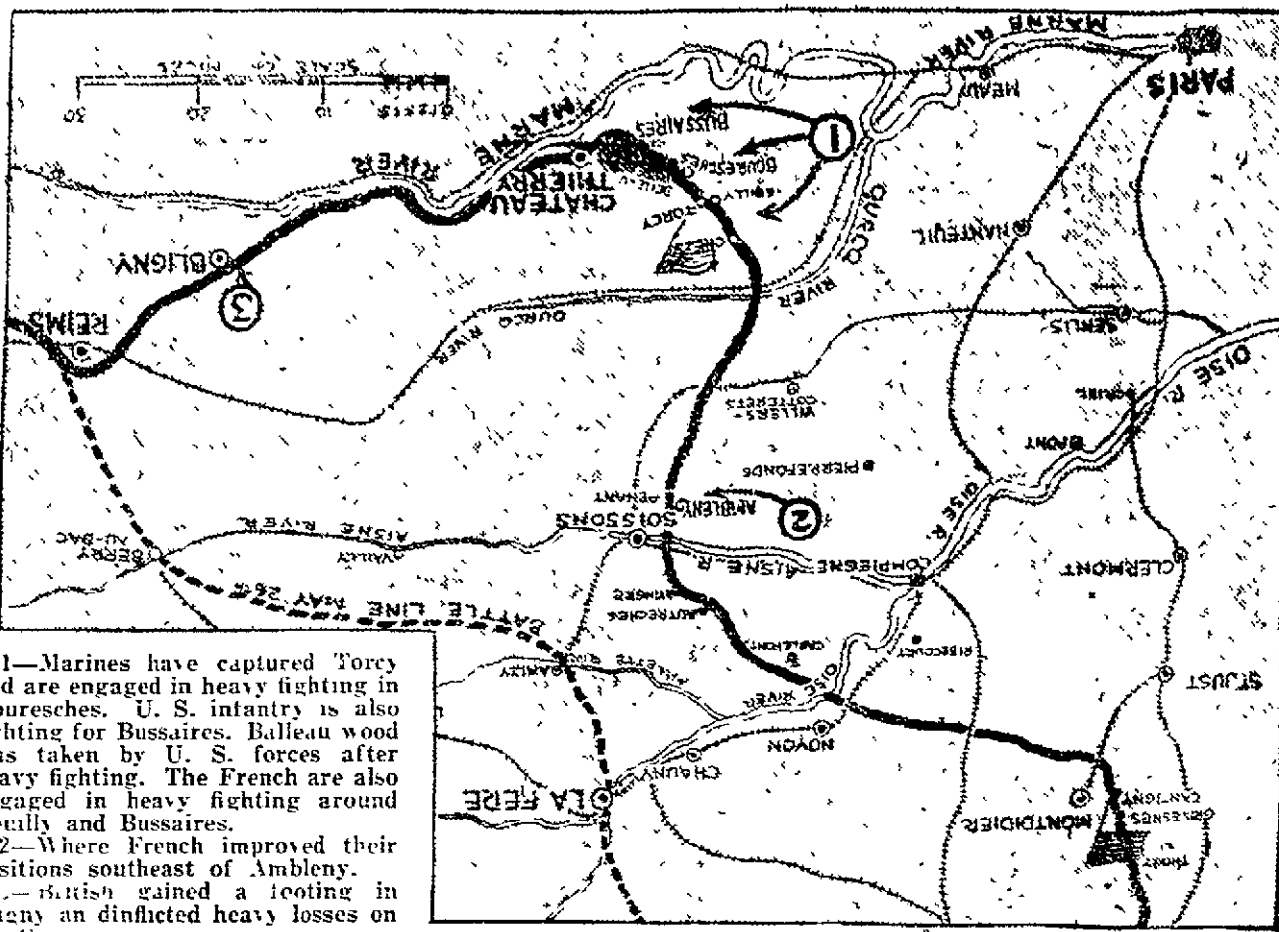

There is little news yet from the German side as the German official statement issued Sunday afternoon referred only to the operations of Saturday.

ENORMOUS LOSSES ARE SUSTAINED BY GERMANS

(Compiled from A. P. Despatches)
Comparatively slow progress attended by losses described as enormous, is being made by the Germans in their latest effort to break the allied front in France.

The advance against the line from Noyon to the eastern suburbs of Montdidier coming quickly after the force of offensive of the Allies had been spent has since encountered stern resistance and it is only over a comparatively short section of the line that the enemy has made appreciable gains.

WHERE U. S. MARINES ARE MAKING HISTORY AT FRONT

1.—Marines have captured Torcy and are engaged in heavy fighting in Bouresches. U. S. infantry is also fighting for Bussières. Balleau wood was taken by U. S. forces after heavy fighting. The French are also engaged in heavy fighting around Veuilly and Bussières.

2.—Where French improved their positions southeast of Ambleny. —British gained a footing in Bligny an undisturbed heavy losses on the Germans.

able gains. The deepest penetration reported so far is approximately two and three-quarter miles. It has been believed since the drive toward Amiens stopped that General Foch had the greater bulk of his reserves in or near the area that is now being attacked. Not only these troops within striking distance of the front but there are natural obstacles which also militate against the entire success of the German assault. The high hills, which now are the scene of heavy fighting are but outposts of the positions which are prepared along the Oise river which bisects the front upon which the battle will be fought. If these lines of defense are overthrown.

The present assault on the line east of Montdidier may be considered as a complement of the offensive along the Aisne and when the situation is studied it will be seen that the "pinet" system followed by MacKensen in Russia, Serbia and Rumania is again at work. If the thrust just west of Noyon succeeds in gaining extensive ground it will approach the line from Soissons to Chateau-Thierry, and a retirement from the positions taken up by the allies there would be toted.

On the other hand if the drive gains ground further west it will outflank the positions held by the French and Americans at Montdidier and compel their readjustment with the resultant uncovering of Amiens.

The wings, however, seem to be holding firmly and the only gains so far made have been in almost the center of the line where they are least harmful to the security of the fronts on either side of the new battle area.

According to advices from the front the Germans have thrown more than 200,000 men against the line which measures a little over 20 miles in length. This does not equal the numbers hurled against the British before Cambrai on March 21 nor is it such a concentration of men to the mile as was used at the inception of the German offensive in Flanders in April, but if as a menacing force to which may be added at any time the full weight of the German reserves which are believed to be massed somewhere near.

American and French troops operating northwest of Chateau-Thierry repulsed German attacks last night and made new progress.

A German attempt to assault the British positions at Ailly wood north of Albert was repulsed while a British raid near Bethune northwest of Lens was successful.

On the rest of the front there has been no fighting of a significant nature.

Resuming the offensive on a 22-mile front from south of Montdidier to the Oise, south of Noyon, the Germans have made gains in the center but are being held in check by the French on the wings. Heavy fighting continues all around the front.

Allied commanders had anticipated that the enemy would attack on this sector, with the hope, probably of pushing it back and connecting up the salient which ended near Montdidier and Noyon. French opinion is that the first day was satisfactory. The French reserves on the sector are still intact.

In the German attacking waves reached Reims-Sur-Matz and Marcell, about three miles apart, making an advance of two and a half miles. Paris reports this advance as "murderous" for the Germans. On the left wing the most the enemy could gain was about one-third of a mile, while on the right he was checked after crossing the first, or "covering line" of the French defense.

Berlin's full report on the first day's fighting will be delayed 24 hours, as is customary. Its latest statement mentions the capture of the heights of Gury immediately behind the French line and north of Marcell.

The Germans in attempting to push back the allied line between Montdidier and Noyon, face not only strong natural obstacles in the form of large forests on high elevations, but also a determined French resistance.

Evidently the Germans are striving for Compiègne on the road to Paris, if the right wing gives way, or for Amiens and the separation of the French and British main armies if the left flank can be thrust backward far enough.

Whether the Germans are attacking here in as great or greater strength than against the Chemin des Dunes on May 27, is not yet clear.

If the tactical advantage gained by the advance on the Noyon-Rheims front is to be realized in the full the salient there must be widened toward the west. The Germans failed before the forest of Villers-Cotterets. The Montdidier-Noyon sector offered a favorable opportunity and the German command evidently lost no time in massing for the attack.

The heavy preliminary bombardment of high explosive and gas shells covered not only the 22-mile front under attack but also the American sector west of Montdidier and the British front north and south of the Somme directly east of Amiens. However, no infantry attacks yet have developed on these fronts.

The enemy artillery fire affected the allied line to a depth of six miles. On the Noyon-Rheims salient the only fighting has been some local German attacks northwest of Chateau-Thierry which were checked by the American and French troops, and an unfruitful German effort west of Rheims.

The Americans inflicted heavy losses on the enemy in his effort on the Chateau-Thierry sector. Elsewhere on the American, French and British sectors there has been no activity of moment.

Increased artillery fire on the mountain front in northern Italy is reported. Infantry activity however, has been confined to local attacks. It is known that the Austro-Hungarian command has been making great preparations for an offensive but the blow is held in abeyance.

TRAVELERS MUST NOW PAY INCREASE IN RAILROAD FARE

The new passenger rate on both the railroads passing through the city became effective this morning. The rate throughout the state has been increased from 2 cents per mile to 3, plus the war tax, while interstate travel has been increased from 2 1/2 to 3 cents per mile. Pullman fares have likewise increased as the approximate charge is 3 1/2 cents per mile in addition to the regular berth rate.

The old rate throughout the different states has varied from 2 cents up, and since the new rate has become effective there will be a uniform rate of 3 cents, plus the war tax, over the entire country.

Up to the present none of the interurban lines have increased their rates, but in all probabilities they will attempt to do so in the very near future.

DROVE OFF WITH THE WRONG CAR

Confusion in the appearance of two cars of the same make caused William Barrett of East Newark to believe his car had been stolen from East Park Place Saturday night.

Mr. Barrett had driven up town and parked near the fountain in East Park Place. He came back in about ten minutes and his machine was gone. The matter was reported to the police, and the remark was dropped that there was another car nearly like it parked next to it. In the meantime a friend had been given permission to drive Jerry Barrett's car and after parking it opposite the Evans drug store, he returned, got the machine and started out, but found it did not work like the car he was driving. An investigation showed he had taken the wrong car and he hurried back with it and the tangle was unraveled.

OH, YES, THEY'RE CUTE

Any time a good enough for easy-going people. Any way is well enough. They are inclined to be sorry for the young man who sets his alarm clock for an early hour, and takes off his coat when he goes to work. But the road to success of any sort is never easy. Easy-going people jog along comfortably, knowing nothing of tense nerves and strained muscles, but when the day is over, the goal is still far in the distance.

GRANVILLE IS CROWDED WITH MANY VISITORS

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, O., June 10.—Never has the old college town appeared more attractive than it does this week, and commencement visitors have been treated to several days of perfect June weather with a promise from the weatherman of several more to come.

The Baptist church was crowded on Sunday with students, townspeople and visitors for both services. In the morning the baccalaureate service was preached by Dr. David E. Bovington of Cleveland, whose scholarly discourse was summoned up in his admonition to the class of 1918 to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ," and the pastor, Dr. Millard Brelsford, assisted; the three men on the platform making an impressive appearance in their doctors' robes. The music for both services was distinguished for high merit. In the morning Prof. K. H. Eshman presided at the organ, and Prof. E. P. Johnston directed the choir. Alfred Evans, tenor, carried the solo parts in the anthem, "I Will Mention the Loving Kindness," by Sir Arthur Sullivan, and Miss Ruby Barnes, soprano, of the graduating class, sang "Peace Triumphant," by Abbie Jones, for the offertory.

Mr. Eschman featured Caesar Franck (of Belgium) in his voluntary offering and postlude. In the evening, Dr. C. L. Williams addressed the Christian Associations of Denison, in his old time happy manner, which is always conducive to optimism. Mrs. Rupp was at the organ; the anthem was a double quartet from the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. quartets, and the offertory a solo, "These Are They" (from the Holy City), by Miss Helen Ray.

The members of the board of trustees are already assembled for their annual meetings, and have been invited with their wives to dine with President and Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain in Shepardson commons this evening at 5:30 o'clock.

Organ Postlude—"Postlude in A" (Faulkes) William A. Vogel (Doane, '18)
The joint concert of the Denison and Shepardson Glee clubs, Saturday evening, in Recital Hall, under the auspices of the Festival Association, was a delightful affair and a decided artistic success. The program included two choruses with encores by each club; a group of pleasing songs by a quartet composed of Misses Helen Ray, Lillian Eldridge, Laura Price and Margaret Seasholes, which evoked a hearty recall; a tenor solo by Mr. Bodenweber, which made a great hit with the audience; and a violin concerto by Mr. Miller, accompanied by Mr. Bumer, played in masterly style. These popular players were twice recalled. The Royal Symphony Orchestra, under direction of Kaiserliches Hof Kapellmeister, Herr Schlagenpieler, repeated the humorous "Sinfonia" by Romeberg, which, while grotesque in the extreme, managed to be distinctly harmonious and pleasing, humorously. The director and all the men were so disguised as to defy identification.

NATIONAL WAR GARDEN COMMISSION

PRAISE FROM ENGLISH PRESS ON THE SELF-DENIAL PRACTICED BY ALL TRUE AMERICANS

The following clipping was taken from the London Times and gives some light into the American activity abroad.

(By Harold Begbie.)

One of the finest actions in this war has been done by America. It is action on a gigantic scale, and it is a direct personal character. It is sufficient publicity, I think, has been given to this action.

It is realized by the people of this country that America has already saved us from capitulating to the enemy. Either we should have been forced into this surrender (with our armies unbroken and our munitions of war unexhausted) or we should at this moment be struggling to live and work and fight on one-third of our present rations.

America is sending to these islands almost two-thirds of our food supplies. Sixty-five per cent of the essential foodstuffs eaten by the British citizen comes to him from the American continent. This in itself is something which calls for our lively gratitude. But there is a quality in the action of America which should intensify our gratitude. For these American supplies, essential to our health and safety, represent in very large measure the personal and voluntary self-sacrifice of the individual American citizen. They are not crumbs from the table of riches. They are not the waste of supplies of an autocratic government. They represent, rather, the kindly, difficult and self-sacrificing service of a whole nation, the vast majority of whom are working people.

There is only one altar for this act of sacrifice—the altar of the American working classes. And the rite is performed by men, women and children, at every hour of the day, day after day, week after week.

The Cheerful Giver. Let us remember, is men in the midst of plenty. Well might the American housewife ask why she should deprive her children of food, why she should institute wheatless and meatless days, when all about her there is a visible superabundance of these things. Questions such as this are natural enough.

Tried Famous Family Tonic First in Chester, W. Va. With Happy Results.

Distance and consequent high parcel-postage or expressage make no difference to the man or woman who has tried Nerv-Worth for ill of nervous origin or having nervous complications. When Nerv-Worth cannot be obtained at home or at nearby points such persons take steps to get the remedy from far-away points or from Nerv-Worth headquarters in Zanesville.

This is what a woman resident of Drumright, Okla., wrote a few days ago to the Nerv-Worth druggist at East Liverpool, O.:

"C. T. Larkins—I am sending you a stamped addressed envelope. Will you please write to me and tell me if you can send me a bottle of Nerv-Worth." Remarking that she had not been able to get the remedy at home she went on:

"I lived in Chester, W. Va., and I took every other kind of medicine ever heard of and none of them did me any good. I took one bottle of Nerv-Worth and it did SO MUCH GOOD."

Nerv-Worth history is full of such cases. The benefited Nerv-Worth user "will take no substitute."

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

The following letter was received by Mrs. August P. Butler from her husband, Wagoner August P. Butler, of the 324th H. F. A. Camp, who is now stationed at Camp Mills, L. I., N. Y.:

Now that I have a few spare moments I will try and tell you of my trip here.

First of all we had such a good time for they took us around about way, but the reason for that is they didn't want to take us through Newark of course, you know why. Well we hit about all the big cities in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. So you can imagine what a trip we had. People of all descriptions met us at the stations, cheering us as we passed through. We had plenty of good things to eat on our way, in fact somewhat better than we got in camp. We could have had plenty of home made food stuff but the officers would not allow us to take it for fear it might be doped with poison, so we all took the hint and took nothing in any line of cats, smokes or anything that would be dangerous. We passed through Ohio then into Pennsylvania, then New York, then back into Pennsylvania into New York again and then New Jersey. Got off train at the docks, took a ferry around New York city then over to Long Island and here we are for a few days.

Liberty and as we pass her she seemed to bow as all the people bowed and cheered. I saw the New York or Brooklyn navy yards which had quite a few battle ships all different colors. I passed under the Brooklyn bridge and several just as large and as nice. After we hit Long Island we had to go about 30 miles on train to our camp which is some camp. All tents and there is about one hundred and ten thousand here, but it doesn't look as good and neat as Camp Sherman.

Well, this is the place to see the airplanes, they are as thick as flies. There is an aviation field or camp just a little ways from our camp so they have them guard all over the island. One can count fifteen or twenty without turning your head.

This is about all I can think of to tell you about my trip now, but I have lots to tell you which I will do as I think it over or in other words collect my thoughts.

Now, about myself, I am feeling fine, in fact couldn't feel any better and having a good time too. I met some fellows here that I never dreamed of seeing on this side. I thought they were all across by this time. I suppose it will be sometime before front, on the other side of the Atlantic, and on the other side of the American continent, though 5,000 miles away from the battlefields of France.

But the citizens of America do not ask such questions. With a cheerfulness and a courage which are as vigorous as their industry, and with a moral earnestness which is by far the greatest demonstration, America has yet given to the world of American character, these people so far away from us on the other side of the Atlantic, have willing and with no coercion by the state denied themselves for the sake of the Entente. They are going short, they are going hungry, for our sakes. They are practicing an intimate self-sacrifice in order that we may hold our own till their sons come to fight at our side. All over America the individual American citizen is making this self-sacrifice, and making it without a murmur. He is feeding, by his personal self-sacrifice, not only these islands but France, Italy, and many of the neutrals.

This great demonstration of character has had no other impetus than the simple declaration of the facts by Herbert Hoover, the man who fed Belgium. Hoover has told his countrymen how things stand. That is all. The winter of 1918, he declared to them, will prove to mankind whether or not the American nation is capable of individual self-sacrifice to save the world. Propaganda has never descended to unworthy levels. He has appealed always to the conscience of his countrymen. He has spoken of "a personal obligation upon every one of us towards some individual abroad who will suffer privation to the extent of our own individual negligence."

America has answered this appeal in a manner which marks her out as one of the greatest moral forces in the world. It should be known out there, in the farmhouses, and cottages of the American continent, that the people of this country, tightening their belts and confronting the future with an indestructible confidence are mindful of America's self-sacrifice and are grateful to her men, women and children for their self-sacrifice—self-sacrifice which will save the world.

We go across, so I will be able to write you a few more letters.

How are you, mother and the rest of the folks, hope this letter finds you all well. Give my regards to all. Well I must close with best wishes, answer soon. Your husband, August P. Butler, Bat. B. 324th, H. F. A. Camp Mills Long Island, New York.

Mrs. John Holdbrook of Bladensburg, has just received the following letter from C. W. Rinehart of Decrow avenue, who left for France last winter. He is said to have been the only Licking county boy who was on the Tuscania, which was sunk by a German submarine. The letter reads:

"Dear Cousin Rosamund—I received your most welcome letter a few days ago and sure was glad to get a letter from you, and hope to hear from you all more often. Also, hear things are coming along fine at home. It seems as though in the letter I got from home that father is making very good as to his health.

"Well, things are fine over here for me, at least it appears that way, as I have gained some weight and in the best of health so far.

"We have a very nice camp and do not get very lonesome, as you know how a bunch of rookies spent most of their time in a strange land like this. Most of my spare time goes playing ball. Am thinking of going down to a little brook. I call it a fishing; don't suppose the luck will be much, but will have the sport of trying. Of course, we have lots of other things to do which keeps us busy the greater part of the time.

"Well, this is about all I can think of for this present time, so will close, hoping you are all well and enjoying life. Your cousin,

"C. W. Rinehart."

Editor of Advocate:—I wish to thank you and the people of Old Licking county for the bronze medal which you sent me. I would have answered sooner but I am in the hospital and have been very sick for a few days, so you will please excuse the delay on my part. There are not any more boys in this camp that I know of who are from Licking county, Ohio. I wish there were. I will close with many thanks to you and Licking county people.

DENISON ASTRONOMER PHOTOGRAPHS ECLIPSE AT YERKES UNIVERSITY

The eclipse of the sun, which attracted the attention of the world of science on Saturday, was plainly visible in Newark, and many watched it. The shadow became visible on the progress through dark glasses. The sun about 5:30 and reached its greatest darkness at 6:30 o'clock. It was an interesting phenomena, and observers over the country were successful in obtaining excellent data. At Denver, Colo., astronomers were all over the country assembled to observe the eclipse and at the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago, Prof. Paul H. H. Denison was assigned to the task of photographing the phenomena.

DUTY TO WAR CRIPPLES.

The cripple is not helpless but capable, provided the right job is found for him, and he is trained in preparation for it says a bulletin prepared by the Red Cross Institute for crippled and disabled men, which goes on to recite our duty to those who are disabled by war by saying: Idleness is the calamity too great to be borne. So what the cripple needs is the chance to work, and the encouragement to take advantage of it.

In the past we have done everything possible to make the cripple a failure. We have been lavish with sympathy and charity but short on giving him a real opportunity to make good. The attitude of the public has been a more baffling difficulty than the loss of a limb.

With our new responsibilities to the men disabled in fighting for us in this war, we must make our influence a help rather than hindrance. It is no kindness to renege them to the ignoring of independence on others, for that makes them "crippled" indeed. We must put them back in the game, make them useful, and, in consequence, make life well worth living again. Nothing short of this is a square deal to our men.

There are today many seriously crippled men—some without legs, some even with both arms gone—who are doing their full share in the work of the world. But they had exceptional strength of character to overcome the difficulties placed in their path.

With a fair chance many others could do the same. In this light the problem is hopeful rather than discouraging.

The cripple needs thorough training for a trade which he can follow, and intelligent placement in employment. These the government must supply for the returning soldiers, but the responsibility for making this work effective rests with the public. You can help to make life worth while for the crippled soldiers—by showing them real gratitude and respect but avoiding hero-worship or sentimental sympathy. By expecting them to continue doing their duty and encouraging them in the effort.

By finding them real jobs which they can hold down. If you are a worker, by seeking out positions in the shop of office which cripples can hold; if an employer, by reserving for cripples jobs they can properly fill, not as charity, but on the basis of competency alone. By helping others to a sensible and intelligent view of the matter.

We cannot now afford to leave in idleness men who can be useful producers. So as good patriots we can start with the cripples now among us and continue the work with the crippled when they return. We may have cripples in the physical sense, but the moment we get them at a useful job the vital handicap disappears.

THE YELLOW DOG.

Henry Irving Dodge, author and patriotic propagandist, today made a national appeal for the suppression of "The Yellow Dog" by the establishment in every municipality in the United States of a branch of the Boy Detectors of America.

"The Yellow Dog" according to Mr. Dodge, is the whining native son who constantly harps on German sympathy, of our fighting England's war, of it being a rich man's war, of the crime of sending our boys over there, of the impossibility of defeating Germany, of charging our "Dollar a year" men with being profiteers of declaring that a large percentage of war tax money goes to grafters and "all the rest of the feeble-minded twaddle."

In making his appeal for the co-operation of the Mayors, Superintendents of Public Instructions, members of patriotic societies, Scout Masters of the Boy Scouts of America and Y. M. C. A. Secretaries, Mr. Dodge declares that "The Yellow Dog" is a menace far greater than the German army. His attacks are concealed while the attacks of the German army may be guarded against.

"I speak conservatively," says Mr. Dodge, "when I say that every 'yellow dog' is equal in strength to one infantry company in the German army. The lies of 'The Yellow Dog' are sapping the strength at home. They are knawing at the foundation of attack and defence. They are working for the Germans and many of them don't know it."

Mr. Dodge's plan for the suppression of "The Yellow Dog" is outlined in his most recent work on fiction. In it he portrays the manner in which the boy power of a suburban town was harnessed under the name of the "Boy Detectors of America" and the town was cleansed of yellow dogism without untoward friction and without the use of the usual police channels. Now he wants the boy power of every municipality in America harnessed in the same manner in order to accomplish the same result nationally.

All that is necessary to make the campaign an accomplished fact, according to Mr. Dodge, is a few determined men-leaders of boys in every municipality who will take the trouble of explaining the details to the youngsters.

The boys first are to be organized. They are to be regular detectives for the purpose of ferreting out "The Yellow Dogs." Every boy must keep his ears wide open for direct and implied attacks upon the government and keep on the end of his tongue the one question "How do you know?"

The first move in the campaign is for some patriotic citizen to arrange for a meeting with the boys and explain to them just what the "Boy Detectors of America" is and the meaning of the organization to the welfare of the United States. Then the club is to be organized. Every boy is to be given an official membership card and every member is to receive a supply of "The Yellow Dog" cards to pass out to persons who pass along the "feeble-minded twaddle."

Mr. Dodge, at his own expense, offers to furnish membership cards and "The Yellow Dog" cards to the members of every club that is formed.

Mr. Dodge's address is 137 East 26th street, New York city.

EATING SLOWLY.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Fletcherism, that had disappeared, is now returning as a war measure. Fifty cents' worth of food well masticated is worth a dollar's worth swallowed in gulps. It doesn't take nearly as much to live if a person chews his food well and it is not only an easy way to save, but one's health is improved by it. It will save doctor's bills. Half of the indigestion comes from eating fast. It strains the organs of life and uses more food than is needed. Gulping down a meal in ten minutes is treason. It is pro-German. Don't do it. Be a patriot and eat slowly. There is in the process both a physical and a mental improvement. A fast eater cannot think well. He insults his nerves and makes his whole life a drag. Eat slowly, masticate well, and help win the Hun. This is patriotic gospel. We will leave it to Mr. Hoover.

Our Future Duties.
If Germany is defeated, America, at the end of this war, will be in a position, similar to that of England at the close of the Napoleonic wars. Our industrial resources will be highly developed, our credit will be good and our huge gold reserves will give our banks high standing in other countries. To duplicate what England accomplished in the first half of the nineteenth century, we must cast aside our provincialism and fight for foreign trade on the broadest lines. We must serve the world to gain its trade. Others will not come to us, except to sell goods and get our gold. Our commercial future is not assured by the possession of gold and natural resources. It depends on how we can use them.—New York Commercial.

Civilian Americans in France.
The presence of Americans in France, and particularly in Paris, with no valid reason for being there, has for some time amounted to a scandal. The State Department has tried to cope with the evil by restricting passports to those who could offer some good reason for going abroad. But there are many ways by which even the most rigid passport regulations can be evaded. Many persons get by on the plea that they are connected with some scheme for improving social conditions, or for rebuilding devastated areas, and once across the Atlantic spend their time in Paris cafes. They seem to be without any sense of decency, so that appeals to their better natures are without effect.—Rochester Democrat-Chronicle.

The Kaiser is still groping for the peculiar kind of psychology that will appeal to the American people but he don't mind telling him that offering to shake hands with us with one hand while sinking our ships with the other isn't it.

NOT OVERLOOKING ANYTHING.

(Columbus Sunday Dispatch.)
The allies are not overlooking anything in the matter of preparing for after-the-war trade and commerce. They are not waiting until the war ends, in order to give Germany an equal chance at foreign markets. They are taking advantage of the war at this time in their preparations to take care of trade when war is ended.

The other day a British commission landed in South America, and it will spend some time in official affairs, properly accredited, and with power to make trade agreements and so on. It will call officially upon the representatives of governments, and unofficially upon tradespeople. It will endeavor to come to a better understanding with both government and people.

The allies know that the war is going to end—just when, it does not make so much difference. When it ends, the allies ought to have more friends than when it began—and we include this nation among the allies. Germany ought never again to be allowed to weave her way into the commerce of the world, further than looking out for herself and her own allies. That is, she ought never to be allowed to regain the trade she had in the countries that are now opposed to her, nor in those who are still neutral. Germany ought never again to be allowed to have any trade in Central or South America, and she will not be able to gain any trade down there if we now make it plain to the people that we can supply their demands more cheaply and more efficiently than can the Germans. Any people would prefer to trade with civilized nations rather than with savage ones, and we must convince South America by our fair dealing and humanity that we are civilized—an easy enough matter to do while Germany is apologizing for her savagery.

river and the Ramapo valley. Six of these lakes have been artificially constructed. Bear Mountain Park is a part of the Palisades Interstate Park situated in Orange and Rockland counties and which at present comprises about 29,000 acres, 1,000 of which are in New Jersey. The voters of the state of New York in 1914 adopted a proposition to bond the state to the amount of $10,000,000 for the development and expansion of this park. During the past year the commission working in conjunction with the State Highway Department of New York, has completed the Popolopen Bridge, spanning the 600-foot gorge between Forts Clinton and Montgomery, at an elevation which is five feet higher than the Brooklyn Bridge. The restoration of these forts is now in progress.

—Newark Advocate.

Look Who's Here!
It seems that we are unable of late, by the mere use of words, to touch a responsive chord in the hearts of our former contributors, so in the belief that music not only soothes the savage breast, but will waken them up, we are going to approach them in this manner and in so doing we must call attention to the fact that several months ago, we wrote the words for a patriotic love song, under the title of "Cheer Up, Dearly!" which appeared in the Melting Pot and which we hoped some one of our readers would set to music, but as no one seemed inclined that way, our lady friend, up here, got busy on the job and composed a melody which turned the verses into a very pretty little song.

While she was in the humor we wrote the words for a novelty love song which she also set to music and the title of this song is one that should appeal to every red blooded young man and woman, "Love's First Kiss!" Doesn't that sound great and I wonder how many of our contributors, outside of the editor and myself, have ever enjoyed this same pleasure? I hardly think Willie has, but he will soon, I'm a little doubtful of "Me," but it's possible that F. G. I. may have done so. Willie Winn, well well? F. B. E. can only guess, Sweet Marie, not yet but her day is coming. Aunt Caline once that I know of. Cousin Jane, nay! nay! By Heck, well I kinda reckon so and for the others, maybe so, maybe not, but it's all told in the song which, with "Cheer Up, Dearly!" have been published and are now on the market. We found a great deal of pleasure in working up these songs and the only sad part of the affair is this: we tried to convince our F. G. I. that it was best for us to appear on the title page under our non-de-plum but she would not hear to that at all, so necessity compels us to stand before you unmasked but not undone. This latter shall never be, for we think the music will serve to bind us closer in that strange tie of fellowship which has been ours from the beginning and which we hope shall continue as long as the editor and nature permit. The songs we shall pass out as souvenirs at two bits per song, so look up our little ad, follow instructions as told therein, get acquainted with his royal highness (the music?) who hopes to always be known as, Your Sincere Friend, I. Gotmine.

Our Ad
Send to I. G. for souvenir copies of his two songs, Cheer Up, Dearly! (two step) and Love's First Kiss (waltz song). 25c. each. Address, I. Gotmine, 260 W. Gambier St., Mt. Vernon, O.

SPEAKER SPRING WRITES IN REGARD TO MAYOR'S ACTION

Editor of The Advocate:
Clippings from a recent issue of The Advocate have just reached me in last mail. These are relative to the Bible lecture proposed for Sunday morning in the Auditorium theater, and your mayor's action in connection therewith. That the lecture will not be permitted is indeed a surprise, but it's regarding the characterization of Bible students generally and myself in particular, that I wish to enter a most vigorous protest.

Newark was my home for a number of years and I number many of Newark's citizens among my friends. While located there and long before the beginning of the present world conflict, I was a lecturer in the service of the International Bible Students' Association. I am not of German extraction. I was born in Ohio as were also my parents, and I have never resided outside the state. I have never had my loyalty as an American questioned hitherto. I have repeatedly told capacity audiences in most unmistakable language just where I stand; that I abominate the principles of German autocracy; that I understand the Bible to teach that that despicable system is soon to be swept from the face of the earth; that I stand square with President Wilson in the present crisis and have no sympathy with any person or persons who do not, and that no person can be a true Christian who is not loyal in heart, word and action to the United States government. I have subscribed and contributed to Liberty Loan, Red Cross and W. S. S. to the full extent of my ability, and have encouraged others to do so, believing this to be the duty of all American citizens.

In the past year I have addressed large audiences in more than fifty cities, including the city of Newark on December 16th and have recently addressed large audiences in Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, Louisville, Ky., Ashland, Ky., Alliance, Coshocton, New Philadelphia and only last Sunday lectured to over 1,500 people in Pittsburgh, Pa. I have had extensive recognition from mayors, congressmen, both state and national, and other prominent men who have been in my audiences. No effort has been made at any time or place to hinder, discourage or stop my lecture by any city or other official.

The sweeping statements are offered to Mayor Alderton are not borne out by the facts. I am certain that he has been misinformed. Only a few pages of Bible students' literature were burned from the mails, and this only while the courts could not issue orders to make the literature legal. There are more than 1,500,000 copyrighted pages that have no such restrictions. Bible students' literature is not against the war and is not "for peace at all costs." This literature has been much misrepresented by certain religious leaders who are altogether responsible for the recent agitation. Our literature, while dealing specially with matters religious, has advised Bible students to subscribe to the various war funds to the extent of their ability. No lecturer receives a penny. I have never received a penny, either directly or indirectly for lecturing, and have frequently paid my own traveling expenses.

Mayor Alderton's action is all the more inexplicable in view of the fact that a committee of Newark citizens, who called upon him Friday morning, at his suggestion, telephoned Asst. Attorney General Holla and were told by Mr. Holla that no one had a right to stop such meeting unless something was said at the lecture that "is not alright." It is our thought that while America's sons are at the front making heroic sacrifices, that we at home should guard well the principles of true democracy, at the very foundation of which are the constitutional rights and the privilege to worship God according to the dictates of one's own conscience. Nothing in the whole world is more unjust than religious intolerance and against this and resultant misrepresentations, however conscientiously made, we respectfully protest.

Thanking you for the space given this item, I am
Yours very respectfully,
W. H. SPRING,
Portsmouth, Ohio.

LICKING COUNTY SCHOOLS ARE FIRST IN STAMP SALES

Columbus, June 10.—From the records compiled by the educational division of the Ohio War Savings Committee, sale of War Savings Stamps by Ohio school children on June 3rd had reached a total of $2,569,629, or an average of $2.67 for every pupil in the state. This is considered a very conservative figure.

Leading the counties of the state is Licking, with per capita sales of $2.62 among the school children of that county. Others in the "first ten" are Fulton, $2.29; Holmes, $2.15; Marion $2.05; Monroe, $1.96; Champaign, $1.92; Perry, $1.90; Van Wert, $1.89; Preble, $1.86 and Morrow, $1.65.

DOCTORS MEETING TO BE HELD HERE WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19

An invitation has been extended to every practicing physician in Coshocton, Fairfield, Guernsey, Knox, Licking, Maskingum and Perry counties to attend a conference to be held in Newark in Taylor hall, Y. M. C. A. building, on Wednesday, June 19, for the graduate study of the subject of physical diagnosis.

Similar group meetings are to be held throughout the state during the summer and fall months, under the auspices of the Ohio State Medical Association. It is a part of a movement to carry post graduate instruction in the medical science to the practicing physicians of Ohio. The meeting will be directed by Dr. Chas. F. Hoover, of Cleveland, professor of medicine in the Medical Department of Western Reserve University.

He will cover the entire subject of physical diagnosis—one of the most important branches of the practice of medicine. The latter part of the meeting will be devoted to a general discussion.

The doctors will discuss better methods of handling the perplexing situations that often face the physicians. The real purpose of the meeting is to interchange information, and receive directly from a great center of medical education, a review of the advances science has made.

Dr. Hoover's lecture will be particularly interesting because of his experience in the war zone. He spent several months in France with the Lakeside Hospital Unit and for several weeks was attached to one of the casualty clearing stations immediately behind the lines. A part of the time of the lecture will be devoted by him to a discussion of the various poison gases which were introduced by the Germans and later were used with such telling effect by the British and French armies. Newark is one of the 17 larger centers of the state that have been chosen for these group meetings.

PHI SIGMA CHI HAVE COTTAGE AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Buckeye Lake, O., June 10.—For the formal opening of the Phi Sigma Chi cottage at Buckeye Lake, Sunday, June 9, the Sigs chef, Dan Foster, put up a chicken dinner that will never be forgotten.

The boys started the day with a plunge in the lake, any from morning until the hour of the feed, the boys could be seen doing almost manual labor in order to condition themselves for the dinner.

Frank Simms was elected toastmaster at the table, but all that was heard from him was "more chicken." Tony Roll also did his bit at the table by telling Doc Postle he could eat the most chicken between the two.

Doc fell for Tony's wagger and is still wondering why he didn't get much of the towel. "Skipper" Daugherty, of the sailboat "Strawberry," was on deck, manning at least six servings of strawberry shortcake.

After dinner the boys indulged in a sailboat ride across the lake, and in the evening the Phi Sig chapter from Zanesville were present at the cottage and another dinner was served.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would be awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well, and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SCHULTZ, 603 Olmsted St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I seem as though I should die." Such women should profit by Mrs. Schultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM KNELLER, SR.

On May 28, 1868, Miss Mina Bauman and Mr. Wm. Kneller, sr., both of near Sugar Grove, O., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, and therefore traveled life's pathway together for 50 years. They have had seven children born to them, all living, except one baby boy, Tobias, who passed away in infancy. The other six children are all married living near their parents. The children, together with the 10 grandchildren, decided to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary in honor of their parents. Tuesday, May 28, 1918, proved to be an ideal day in every respect. Tables were placed on the spacious lawn of the Kneller homestead, and these tables were loaded with all the good things to eat, which make these occasions enjoyable. These viands were all prepared by the willing hands of their children. Soon guests began to arrive from every direction and at the noon hour dinner was served to 135 guests. After dinner their pastor gave a short address and presented to the father a gold watch-chain, and the mother a gold wedding ring—gifts from the children. The pastor then took up a collection for the Red Cross and the sum of $28.50 was the result. They received many beautiful presents, among which was a lovely gold-headed silk umbrella, a gift from the neighbors; a gold clock, from Mr. and Mrs. M. Clover; a silver and gold flower basket, from Dr. and Mrs. Watkins; a silver and gold salad bowl, creamer and sugar bowl, from Pleasantville relatives; silver and gold meat fork, silver and gold gravy ladle, silver and gold sugar shell, a lovely vase, chocolate pitcher, jewel box and ash tray, gold money, a picture, a jar of cigars, and many other gifts.

Supper was also served on the lawn, and soon after the guests began to depart for their different homes. Guests were present from Columbus, Illinois, Lancaster, O.; Sugar Grove, O.; Kirkersville, Etna, Thurston, Granville, Rushville, Pleasantville and Hebron. All departed, feeling that it was good to have been there.

widow of John Hoagland, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Annie McDonald, 31 South Sixth street, Sunday evening at 11:55 o'clock. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Poundstone of Brownsville, and is survived by her sister, Mrs. James Thompson, Riley street a niece of Mrs. McDonald of South Sixth street, and one granddaughter.

Funeral of Miss Zoe Hirst. The funeral of Miss Zoe Lillian Hirst was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Ellis Chapel. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the chapel.

True Friendship. A true friendship is one of human kind's sweetest ties, and it should be sacredly regarded. That sterling soul who always has a smile for us—who sees in us only what is fine and commendable—should not, and will not, if we are made of the right stuff, be annoyed by our overfamiliarity.

Red Blood and Courage! (BY DR. W. C. LUCAS.)

What drives the men right up to the trenches in this war of courage and red blood that "puts the heart" in the men. Did any one ever see a puny, thin-blooded man ever rush into the fight with any chance of winning out? With rich, pure blood you can face any hardship, fight any goal. But you are handicapped in the race of life without it. Every tissue, bone, muscle, should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. When the poisons accumulate in the blood, the face breaks out in pimples, or boils appear on the neck, and we feel languid, tired, our vitality is at a low ebb, and we easily catch cold.

It's time to take an alternative extract and blood-purifier taken from Nature's forests. Such a one is made up of Golden Seal, Blood and Stone root, Oregon Grape and Queen's root—extracted with glycerine and made into sugar-coated tablets or lozenges, and this has been sold by druggists for many years. It is called Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

SUGAR RIDGE, Ohio.—"I wish, like thousands of others, to add my testimony in the praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines. In the spring of 1915 owing to exposure of wind winter I found myself a weaker for a man of 30. My appetite was gone, blood was thin and watery and rheumatism had taken hold of me. I tried various remedies but they gave me very little relief. I bought two bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets' and two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and in one week my aches were gone, constipation ceased, and in a short time I was feeling like a new man. Since then I hold name of the face break-out in pimples, or boils appear on the neck, and we feel languid, tired, our vitality is at a low ebb, and we easily catch cold.

It's time to take an alternative extract and blood-purifier taken from Nature's forests. Such a one is made up of Golden Seal, Blood and Stone root, Oregon Grape and Queen's root—extracted with glycerine and made into sugar-coated tablets or lozenges, and this has been sold by druggists for many years. It is called Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—"From the time I was a small child I suffered with biliousness, indigestion, and constipation. At times when I was attending school I would have to come home and go to bed. I took many different medicines but did not get any relief until I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This medicine completely cured me, and I have never had any return of the complaint. I can recommend 'Pleasant Pellets' to those who suffer as I did."—Mrs. E. J. MASON, 4213 Tiltman Ave.

SUIT FILED BY GYPSY AGAINST RESORT COMPANY

A petition was filed today in common pleas court by Mrs. Anna Western against the Buckeye Lake Park Company, for judgment in the sum of $1,200. The plaintiff is a typical gypsy and for some time past the band has been encamped along the Buckeye Lake road, between the lake and Hebron. The plaintiff says that on April 18, 1918, she entered into a written contract with the defendant for operating a palmistry concession at the park and was to pay the defendant company the sum of $12.50 weekly for the privilege. At great expense she moved from Coshocton and arranged to open her place of business on May 26, the day the park opened. The weekly payment of $12.50 was paid the defendant and accepted. This was for the week of May 26.

On May 23 she alleges the park manager ordered her "to get out and stay out" and since that time the plaintiff has been unable to operate her business, much to her loss. By refusal of the defendant to meet its part of the contract and the loss of business the plaintiff alleges that she has been damaged in the sum of $1,200, for which amount with interest from June 8, 1918, she seeks judgment.

Has Almost Constant Rainfall.

Curiously enough, it is in India that we find the wettest town in the whole world, according to a British agricultural expert in India. The town, where there is an almost constant rainfall, is called Cherapunji, in Assam.
Its average rainfall is 600 inches or 50 feet a year, which is nearly a foot a week.

Every man should do his plain duty, but some men are such aesthetes as to dislike anything that is plain.
